COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course will provide you with a relevant vocational qualification if you are intending to enter the legal sector, or wish to gain UCAS points for higher education to study law or other relevant degree courses.

You will gain an understanding of the legal system, law making processes, the role of judiciary and substantive content of criminal, tort and family law. You will also develop necessary skills such as drafting letters and documents, learn how to provide legal advice and how to conduct client interviews.

Students who have taken Law have progressed to the study of Law at degree level, as well as other humanities-based subjects. It is also a useful subject when applying for entry to the police force.
