

FILM STUDIES

SUMMER WORK | READLING LIST | YOUTUBE RECOMMENDATIONS

TEACHER: RICHARD ENO

Film Studies Summer Work 2020

Hi Everybody, welcome to Film Studies at S6C! Here you'll find some work to do over the next few months whilst you wait to start college.

Click HERE for the latest version of the Film Studies Handbook. Lots of material in there.

If you click HERE you'll find a chapter on Film Language. This will give you an insight into how we analyse films and will give you a great headstart for September.

If you have Netflix then please try and checkout these films:

1. Goodfellas
2. When Harry Met Sally
3. Groundhog Day
4. Radio Days
5. Erin Brokovich

One of our units is about early cinema. To introduce you to this I'd like you to see this documentary, if you can.

Here is a list of my favourite Film Studies YouTube Channels that will give you lots to think about and another taste of what we do in Film:

- Every Frame a Painting
- Lessons From the Screenplay
- Beyond the Screenplay
- Like Stories of Old
- Cinema Cartography
- The Nerd Writer
- Lindsay Ellis
- Now You See It

I also run a media and film podcast called, Renofication, and you can listen to it via Spotify, Anchor.fm, Breaker, RadioPublic and Google Podcasts

And I also run the college social media, so check us out online, too.
<https://www.instagram.com/salisbury6thform/>

I hope this finds you well and please do stay in touch. You can email me at reno@salisbury6c.ac.uk or message via Insta.

Reno (click)