

Sociology Summer Induction Work

Summer suggestions before beginning the course

The following books will give you an idea of what the subject Sociology entails:

https://www.amazon.co.uk/Communist-Manifesto-Graphic-Novel/dp/1910593494/ref=sr_1_1?crid=3BWHBDMWXLJ6Z&dchild=1&keywords=communist+manifesto+graphic+novel&qid=1588761454&sprefix=Communist+manifesto+%2Caps%2C179&sr=8-1

Summer Tasks

Task One:

- Produce a detailed PowerPoint presentation on the following:
- What is Sociology?
- What topics do we study in Sociology?
- What career does Sociology lead on to?

Task Two:

- Familiarise yourself with the following link:
- It outlines how the course is assessed and the various topics. Sociology is a writing based subject
- <https://www.aqa.org.uk/subjects/sociology/as-and-a-level/sociology-7191-7192/assessment-resources>

Task Three:

One thing Sociology students are required to do is write up summaries of studies and concepts in block paragraphs.

Try to research summarise the following concepts:

- Murdock's Universal Family
- Biological Analogy and Functionalism
- The Biography of Karl Marx
- The Nature v Nurture debate
- Toxic Childhood
- The Female March of Progress

Please email alomas@salisbury6c.ac.uk if you have any questions.